PMP PRICE INCREASES – 18th May 2026

Dear Valued Customer,

Following our recent communications, we regret to advise that continued escalation in input costs now requires a second stage price adjustment.
Ongoing geopolitical instability in the Middle East is driving sustained increases across oil, gas, and petrochemical markets. Raw material costs have continued to rise beyond previously anticipated levels, further compounded by inflation in energy and logistics.
As a result, PMP Manufacturing Ltd has no alternative but to implement a further and regrettable increase in pricing.

With effect from Monday 18th May 2026, the following additional increases will apply to all deliveries and collections. These are in addition to adjustments previously notified:

	Range	% Increase
	SlottedSection™	6%
	PreClad NuPhen / Free-Issued Conversion	6%

Given current conditions, further volatility should be expected, and we will continue to communicate developments transparently.

The decision to increase prices is something, as a business, we take extremely seriously and where we are able, we do try not to pass on all the cost increases that have been coming down the line, however circumstances are outside our control. The full Nett and Customers pricelist will be available from May 2026

Yours sincerely,

Edvinas Siksnius, Tom Kralik, Phil Woolacott,
Directors
